

Protective Covenants in all Units of Country Place - Units 1-7 (see Article XXII in Units 1-6 and Article XI in Unit 7) which are titled ANTENNAE, shall now be titled ANTENNAE/SATELLITE DISH. It was amended by all board members at a regular board meeting in March of 1992.

No radio or television transmitting antenna or transmitting equipment, having power in excess of  $\frac{1}{2}$  watt shall be placed on or kept within the Subdivision without the specific, written approval of the Association. In the event of the approval by the Association it will be incumbent on the owner of such transmitting antenna and/or equipment to assure that his equipment does not interfere with television or radio reception in the area. In the event such interference does occur, the owner of the transmitting equipment shall correct the interference or remove the transmitting equipment from use.

The Protective Covenants shall be modified as follows in bold added to the item.

Satellite dishes for TV reception will be permitted within Country Place Subdivision if the dish is placed within the confines of the homeowners backyard and not visible from the street. If said dish interferes with reception of or obstructs any neighboring property, the dish must be removed or repositioned.
